H&M group registered as H&M Hennes & Mauritz GBC	YES	We have a spreadsheet available on request and are looking for a solution to make it available on the site in an automated way.	The average monthly wage (excluding overtime) in its supply chain, per production country	We show average wages excluding overtime: https://hmgroup.com/content/hmgroup/groups/its/sustainability/sustainable-fashion/wages/key-impacts-and-learning2.html			YES*	We have integrated fair living wages in our supply chain business plans and are at the moment reviewing a specific strategic collaboration to address the needs. https://hmgroup.com/content/hmgroup/groups/its/sustainability/sustainable-fashion/wages/key-impacts-and-learning2.html	64 (not including the EU production markets). The number of trade unions in our suppliers' factories outside of EU is 106, with in total 240 000 unionised supplier factory employees.	It varies, at this moment we do not have validated data on the average difference. Also, please note that not every CBA includes wages in its scope.	All CBAs are negotiated by a union that is acknowledged under local legislation. Through our Global Framework Agreement we have established National Monitoring Committees in production markets with IndustriAll to monitor how conflicts between parties in the workplace are solved regardless of if there is a CBA or not. We also collaborate with competitors and IndustriAll in ACT to support development of industry wide CBAs.	YES	We publish the manufacturer for each H&M garment and H&M Home product in our online store (hm.com). We publish manufacturers per product in Arket's full assortment where we also share stories and pictures from factories and fabric mills. We are members of Sustainable Apparel Coalition since 2010 to drive for industry wide transparency through Higg Index. We have signed the Transparency Pledge and the Changing Market charter on viscose.
